Website Interface

Easy to Use

Over the web; the employee sets up a personal profile which consists of a pin number, call back number, call back time, and list of contacts. Once activated, Call Guardian will place a call to the contact numbers after the allotted amount of time. If the employee enters the pin it will verify that he/she is OK.

However, if the employee does not answer or enters an invalid pin, Call Guardian will place calls and send emails to the contacts so they can check to see if the employee is OK. Detailed reports track usage and system notification information.
